[This expose is neither designed to extol nor defame Bernard Madoff.
Its purpose is simply to study the correlation between one's numbers, life and destiny.]

The superior man understands what is right;
the inferior man understands what will sell.
Confucius

What you have not done will never befall you.
Only what you have done will befall you.
Dadu - 16th Century Saint

There is no doubt Bernie Madoff had charisma and a public persona. In Part I we discussed this as being an aspect of his 9 Lifepath, 33 and 66 master influences in his Basic Matrix and Specific Inclusion, the 66 residing in his 5th House of versatility, diversity and man. What is interesting about the 9 vibration is that because it is the Grand Elemental see [The King's Book of Numerology, Volume I: Foundations & Fundamentals], it has the ability to blend with everyone and everything. The number 9 added to a number always equals that number [for example: $9 + 4 = 13 > 1 + 3 = 4$; $9 + 8 = 17 > 1 + 7 = 8$]. This attribute, therefore, has a chameleon quality to it, thus giving Madoff the ability to blend and transform the "coloring" of his words and actions to fit those his victims, making them feel comfortable and nurtured in his words [remember his 33 and 66 master numbers?]. In the biologic sense, chameleons are lizards, i.e. reptiles. Snakes are part of the reptilian family. Adjectives associated with the word reptilian are: treacherous, harmful, mean, despicable, debased, contemptible. It is a safe bet there are few people who do not think of Bernard Madoff in such terms. This is, of course, not to say all people with 9 energy in their charts are snakes. It is to say that the 9 energy has the potential of being extremely malefic in its negative expression, just as it has the potential of being wonderfully benefic in its positive expression. It is also to say that 9 energy is very powerful, public, dominant and charismatic and that wolves do cloak and camouflage themselves in sheep's clothing.

To add to this 9 discussion, Madoff's chameleon charisma and public persona were intensely strengthened in his Name Timeline [NTL]. His middle name, "Lawrence," and his surname, "Madoff" are both 9s as well. With his 9 Lifepath that gives him a double NTL Income/Reality set of 9/9. That's not all. His second, third and fourth Challenges in his Life Matrix (see The King's Book of Numerology II: Forecasting - Part I) were comprised of a 1/9 I/R set too!. More 9 energy! In this 1/9 I/R set, however, the influence is the One, the self, ego, leader, boss, star and self-interest. In effect, this gave Madoff a quality of being the star (1) among the public (9). A 9 Lifepath, 9 middle name with a 9 PE, 9 last name also with a 9 PE, 9 second Challenge, 9 Third [Grand/Core] Challenge and a 9

Fourth [Crown/Final] Challenge gave him immense influence in the public sector and great facility of playing the role as the dreaded masquerading wolf.

All of Madoff's Nine (9) energy, however, is not the root cause of his malicious behavior. Take a look at the following Life Matrix.

Arguably, the most problematic aspect of his chart were his voids of Seven (7) and Eight (8) in conjunction with his 1/9 set. Seven is the energy of thought, wisdom, reflection, introspection, awareness, spirituality, substance and deep sensitivity. When void, let alone when negatively aspected as it is in his chart, the 7 is potentially ruthless, cold, thoughtless and compassionless. Madoff could care less about his prey. Their well-being meant nothing to him whatsoever. His life was all about him and his power in the flock as reflected in his 1/9 Challenges.

The Eight (8) void compounds the problem. Eight is the energy of commerce, connection, circulation, flow, administration, orchestration, integration, manipulation, management, usury, material power, wealth and comfort, of being in-the-loop, a mover and shaker personality. Eights love the social arena. The only problem is that Madoff used the 8 energy to negatively take advantage of people. Without any depth of thought for others (7v), he was simply a cold, ruthless, user. To make matters still worse, the 8v Influence had to filter through Madoff's 8 Expression, compounding the usurious nature of his behavior. The 7-8 conjunction is one of the most difficult, if not the most difficult, numerical configuration. When it is voided and challenged in the same 1/R set, as in Madoff's case, nothing good can possibly be the outcome. Combined with his massive concentration of Nine (9) energy, his 1 Challenge of self and ego and his 11-33-44 master number grouping in his Basic Matrix as well as the 66 master energy in his 5th house, it all equated to exactly who and what Madoff painted himself to be - a golden-tongued, false-hearted, ruthless, usurious wolf in seductive sheep's attire.

But why was he caught so late? Good question. None of his antics were revealed until he turned 70 years old. Remember the 7 is void in his chart? It is also Challenged, the outcome of a voided 8 passing through a voided 8 Expression to create a 16-7, the Great Purifier [$8v + 8v = 16-7$ which also happens to be void]. Madoff was arrested on 11 December 2008 in the first year of his Seventies decade, a ten year period that is voided and challenged in his chart followed by another ten year Eight period (the eighties decade of his life) which is also voided and challenged. See the destiny?

Voids, especially in a Challenge position, are extremely problematic and portend trouble, even chaos in their energy field. This is why it is advisable when naming children to have no voids in the natal name. Yet, ultimately, God will decide the destiny. Those who are meant to suffer or be made to contend with a specific energy's absence will not heed this advice.

Dadu's Quote

Saint Dadu's quote casts a very balancing weight to the whole Madoff scenario: What you have not done will never befall you. Only what you have done will befall you. Saint Ravidas says: The fruit of action unfailingly overtakes the doer. Both of these quotes are germane to this discussion and they also bear upon those people who were directly affected by Madoff's insidious, baneful, wicked wolfery.

In this world, what goes 'round always, always comes back around. It is inescapable. What we reap, we sow. It's the universal law of this creation - not philosophy, but law. It is obvious that Madoff will be paying retribution for his crimes for a long time to come, but in regard to karmic law, there are no innocent victims in this world. Therefore, those individuals who were taken advantage of by Madoff had to have done the "taking" at some point in their existence either in this life or a previous life, otherwise they couldn't have been "taken" in this life.

None of us normal humans is elevated enough to see the relationship between Madoff and the other players in this whole karmic drama in relation to past lives. In some capacity, those who fell prey to Madoff must have done the preying at some previous time in some previous incarnation to someone else, perhaps even to Madoff himself. Otherwise, what befell them could never have befallen them. What you have not done will never befall you. Only what you have done will befall you. In other words, if we do the "taking" and play the role of the "taker," eventually we will be taken from and play the role of the "takee," i.e., the victim. If we prey on others, we will eventually be preyed upon because The fruit of action unfailingly overtakes the doer. The law of karma is inexorable, says 20th Century Saint, Sawan Singh. The scales of justice must be balanced, and karma law is the balancing tool. As Guru Nanak states: I blame no one. I blame my own karmas. This is a sobering thought, but it is a prerequisite for individual responsibility and spiritual maturity. We must own up to everything that happens to us because it could not happen if we did not create it in the first place, if we did not plant the seeds of the harvest our actions produce.

It's always easier and more satisfying to blame someone else, to point fingers elsewhere, but this tactic is spiritually invalid and weak. We unfailingly and eventually reap what we sow. It's the eternal law of life. No one is exempt from it. King, queen, prince, pauper, adult, child, celebrity, hobo - all are subject to karmic law. Furthermore, when we point a finger at someone else, three of our own fingers point back at us. It is not comfortable to blame ourselves, but it is spiritually responsible. Nothing can happen to us that we did not create in the first place. What you have not done will never befall you. Only what you have done will befall you. What goes around always comes back around. No one escapes karmic law. What we place into the circle of life, circles back to us naturally. To live in full awareness of this fact of life from moment to moment as we walk this earth, not just to talk about it or acknowledge that we understand it, is to live within the boundaries of a spiritual life style. Therefore, let us all learn from the life of Bernie Madoff and exhort ourselves to watch the seeds we plant because they will eventually return to us, like it or not, and most likely at a time and place not of our choosing or a taste not of our liking. We all, indeed, reap exactly what we sow, and the lives we are living are the lives we created. The sooner we reconcile ourselves to this fact, the sooner we will begin our journey up, not down, the Ladder of Light.

Justice

© 1998 Richard Andrew King

Logic doesn't rule the world.
The Law of Karma does.
It is the way the world works
since the world was.

In counterpoint to justice lacking
in this world of women, men;
in Truth, there's total justice
from beginning to the end,

for Justice rules through karma,
not through human laws.
Justice is Divinely based;
its roots in Godly Cause.

Think not there is no justice.
There is, but we're confined to understand its workings from this side of the Blind.

Remember, karma is inexorable.
Its justice is unflawed.
There never is injustice
in the Hallowed Halls of God.
